Niles Rotarians believe they have the biggest roadsign in the United States. The Rotary Wheel recently installed at the Hotel Belvoir entrance measures 10 feet in diameter. It is possible that the wheel will be taken to the Rotary International Convention to be held in San Francisco this Summer to give publicity to Niles.

Three cheers for Warner Brothers!

Joseph Bernhard at New York, general manager of their circuit, is on record declaring it is unfair to subject the paying public to advertising matter on the screen and has pledged that commercially sponsored films will not be played in any theatre controlled by Warner Brothers. He says:

"Warner Brothers consider the newspaper primarily the place for paid advertising."

Resolutions of respect to the memory of William H. Ford were read at the Monday noon meeting of the Niles Chamber of Commerce. Copies were sent his near relatives and the press.

No words of praise are too encompassing to describe the feelings of a grateful community toward a man whose life was filled with philanthropic usefulness.

We add our fullest measure to those already spoken and written since the passing of Mr. Ford.

Another collision occurred on Highway 101 at the Niles Canyon crossing during the present week emphasizing the need for caution signs for daytime driving and better lighting for night time.

Here's hoping it won't be long before the county may be induced to paint "SLOW, SCHOOL CROSSING" or some such equally effective warning in large white letters for at least the southbound traffic.

Dozens of small school children use this crossing daily and they should have some measure of protection on this stretch of highway which rapidly is becoming to resemble a speedway for automobiles.

The Niles sign on the hillside east of town measuring 75 by 50 feet was given a Spring Cleaning by President Lewis Lewis of the Junior Chamber of Commerce assisted by Fred Duffie and Scoutmaster Lawrence Pine last Saturday morning. They went up before breakfast last Saturday morning and for two and a half hours chopped grass and swept off the sign. That's what one might call "washing an elephant!"

Entire Township Pays Respect To Departed Leader

NEWARK—Practically the entire township paid tribute on Tuesday to Louis Ruschin, "Mayor of Newark" who passed away at the San Jose hospital last Friday after an illness of a few weeks that became acute last Wednesday.

All business houses of Newark were closed from 9 to 10:30 a. m., the hour of the funeral. The grammar school of which Mr. Ruschin was a trustee was closed in respect to his memory. The office of the Centerville District Office of the Alameda County Health Department for which Mr. Ruschin had been an ardent supporter was also closed for the morning. Flags flew at half mast because of his position on the board of directors of the township's post of the American Legion.

A meeting of the Newark Fire Department scheduled for Monday night was postponed in respect to the deceased. Prior to his resignation three years ago, Mr. Ruschin had served as chief of the department for 33 years and a bronze medal presented to him on his retirement was one of his most prized possessions.

Louis Ruschin was 68 years of age at the time of his death. He was a native of Germany and the husband of the late Margaret Ruschin. He was the father of Julia Ruschin, Newark's postmaster, and Louis "Bud" Ruschin of McGill University, Canada, and former Stanford athlete. He is survived by a sister, Hulda Grunsbaum of Germany.

Mr. Ruschin had resided in Newark for more than 50 years. For the past 30 years he had been a member of the Silva and Ruschin Real Estate and Insurance Company. He was active in all civic and philanthropic projects of the township.

Funeral services were held Tuesday morning from his home on Thornton ave., with high requiem mass said at the St. Edward's Church. Interment was in the Holy Sepulchre cemetery. Paul bearers were John Pope, M. D. Silva, J. D. Silva, Otto Zorn, Paul Gygax, Sr., and Louis Milani.

Golden State Rose And Niles Girls To Aid Exposition

NILES—Two young ladies from Niles will be featured in publicity going out from the Golden Gate International Exposition with regard to the official rose that has been produced for the exposition by The California Nursery Company.

Miss Rosanne Sladek, aged nine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Sladek, and Miss Charlene Fournier were photographed with the "Golden State Rose," at the nursery Tuesday morning along with Miss Gerd Werenskiold of Oakland, one of the 20 theme girls being featured in exposition publicity.

The Golden State Rose has never been on the market. It was originated in a little French town, Tassin, by Meilland, grandson of Dubreuil who originated the yellow Cecil Bruner in 1884. Seedlings were secured from Meilland while he was in this country two years ago, and have been developed by George C. Roeding, Jr.

The rose, a briliant buff yellow with a heart of mikado orange, has a spicy fragrance. Last June it won top place as the most beautiful rose of France and it has been chosen from hundreds of varieties as the official rose of the Golden Gate International Exposition.

The rose was named by Mr. Roeding and Robert Pyle of Conard and Pyle of Pennsylvania, former president of the American Rose Society.

The Golden State rose will be grown in profusion at the exposition among the five million flowers being grown to beautify the fair grounds. A total of $1.500,000 is being spent by the exposition landscape department for the beautification of Treasure Island.

Among the racketeers operating throughout the county as menaces to business men, Hoyt mentioned the produce and transportation tribute collectors, counterfeit money, lotteries, loan sharks, gambling machines, narcotics and others. He said that crime costs each man, woman and child $120 a year.

Guests at the meeting included Frank T. Dusterberry who was introduced as "mayor of Centerville", Judge Allen G. Norris, Howard White, Deputy District Attorney Joe Schenone, N. A. McConaghy, Supervisor George Hellwig.

Hayward Boy Is Drowned In Pool In Alameda Creek

NILES—Following the drowning of Lawrence Webster, 13, of Hayward in a Niles Canyon swimming pool Sunday afternoon, the Niles Fire Department is suggesting the purchase of an inhalator for the community. An inhalator had to be brought from Centerville, when the local department was called.

The inhalator can also be used to resuscitate people who have been asphyxiated by gas or smoke during fires. The complete unit will cost about $500.

The proposal to purchase the outfit will be made at a meeting of the fire department tonight, according to Clarence Crane, assistant chief, and will also be presented to the fire commissioners at their June meeting.

The Niles Fire Department siren summoned aid to the scene of the drowning a mile and a half east of Niles Sunday afternoon about 5 o'clock. Hundreds of picnic parties and Sunday motorists gathered at the scene.

The Centerville inhalator crew headed by Frank Madruga worked for more than an hour but their efforts were unavailing. An autopsy performed by Dr. E. C. Grau of Niles later at the Chapel of the Palms indicated the boy had been in the water too soon after eating.

The mother, Mrs. Lea Webster, was hysterical during the rescue work and Father Francis McCarthy of Niles was called to perform the rites of the church as the child expired.

MEMORIAL DAY

The white clouds of cannon-smoke billowing over the fields of Appomattox have long since dissolved.

So, too, has the bitterness which rent this nation apart with the cruel swiftness of a lightning bolt scarcely two generations ago.

Seventy-five summers since the lads of the Blue and the Gray locked in a fierce struggle on Gettysburg's terrain, a few remaining members of the fast-dwindling ranks of the Union and Confederate Armies will gather this Decoration Day at Gettysburg.

Not in hatred, but in friendship will they clasp hands across the wide gulf of the years, united at last as America is united.

But on this occasion America does honor not only to the men who fought for an indivisible nation unshackled by serfdom, but to all those other gallant thousands who have since given their lives in America's struggles against the rampant wildfire of militarism and autocracy. Yet militarism and autocracy still prevail in the world.

Did those men we honor on this day make a pointless sacrifice? Did their mothers and other loved ones suffer heartbreak, loneliness, and tragedy for nothing? We think not. Not if the flowers, the prayers, and the homage we accord them are given as pledges that they who gave their lives in the belief they fought a war to end war—so that America need never fight again—did not die in vain.

What more fitting tribute could they ask for us on this day of remembrance than our resolve not to break faith with the ideal for which they laid down their lives?

NO, NO, Lady!

SURVEY INDICATES TROUT PLANTING IN ALAMEDA CREEK

CENTERVILLE—Plenty of water in the Alameda Creek this summer will justify a large planting of trout by the State Fish and Game commission, according to Allan Walton, president of the Washington Township Sportsmen's Club. A survey was made of the creek last week by the state commission.

Motion pictures of the recent trip of Frank Faria to Southern California and of the round-up at the Andrade Brothers ranch at Decoto were shown at last week's meeting of the sportsmen. Captain Oakes will be the speaker at the next meeting and will discuss tarpon fishing.

At a recent meeting of the district council, it was suggested that sportsmen's club contribute to funds to raise the bounty on mountain lions which are said to be plentiful in the hills back of the township and doing considerable damage to deer.
